HUNT ROOSEVELT ELK and BLACK BEAR in BRITISH COLUMBIA

(Cervus canadensis roosevelti)

Roosevelt Elk were reintroduced to the Sunshine Coast from Vancouver Island in 1987. The huge-bodied Elk often weigh in at over 1,000lbs. The highest scoring Elk for the 2010 season went 395 SCI. The biggest recorded Elk from our area scored 416 SCI.

Black Bear

Coastal BC arguably has the largest population of Black Bear per square mile in North America. The mild climate provides the bears with a very long feeding season starting early in the spring and ending late in the fall on the salmon spawning rivers. Our area encompasses 4000 square miles on the southwest coast of BC. Much of the area is accessible only by boat or floatplane, making resident hunting pressure virtually non-existent. With abundant food and low hunting pressure, it's easy to see why coastal bears grow to such a large size. Bear hunting in the spring is done by boat cruising along the beaches and estuaries, or by 4 x 4, glassing the logged off areas in the mountains, where bears are feeding on the lush new vegetation. All hunts are exciting spot and stalk. The average bear taken squares over six feet although every year many go over seven feet and a high percentage of the skulls make the record books.

Fly into the Vancouver International Airport. If hunting out of the northern camp (Roosevelt Elk/Black Bear), from there take a five minute taxi ride to the Sea Air Float Plane base and take a wheel plane for a scenic 35 minute flight to the Powell River camp. Flights can be arranged with West Coast Air and Pacific Coastal Airlines. If hunting in Southern portion of the guiding area, clients take a 5 minute taxi ride to the SEA Air Float plane base (next to the Flying Beaver Restaurant). Flights can be arranged with West Coast Air or Tofino Air. Enjoy a 35 minute float plane ride into camp.
