YOUR COMFORT AND WELL BEING

A well-stocked medicine box is kept in all our camps, including snakebite serum and anti-malaria tablets. Each hunting car also carries a first aid box. Malaria is prevalent in Tanzania and all clients are advised to seek medical opinion prior to their safari to obtain malaria prophylactic tablets that should be taken a week before you start your safari and continued for four weeks after you leave Tanzania. The Tanzanian

Government also requires a valid verification certificate for yellow fever for entry into the country. We also advise that you consult your physician as to other vaccinations that you may require and to bring with you any particular medicines that you may need during your safari. Lightweight but protective clothing is recommended, green or khaki being the most suitable colors. Trousers or shorts are usually worn with a loose fitting shirt. Comfortable footwear is essential (something similar to desert boots), as are a wide brimmed hat and sunglasses, also a wool sweater or jacket for the evening and early mornings. Clients might like to bring a change of clothes for evening in the camp. However, we recommend that luggage be kept to a minimum if a charter flight is necessary, due to the weight restrictions on the light aircraft.
